

DEDICATED TO DEVELOPING STATE-OF-THE-ART BUSINESS SOFTWARE, 3Doves LLC helps clients apply ever-changing technology to their benefit. "Our company uses technology to streamline the business processes of our clients. In most cases, the Internet is the perfect tool for solving highly-complex process needs as well as for information sharing," says 3Doves LLC managing partner Wayne Vaughn. ■ By focusing on Web-based business functions, 3Doves creates innovative solutions that surpass others in power, versatility, and value. Clients save both money and time by utilizing the 3Doves' cost-effective approach. Drawing from both existing and emerging technology, 3Doves analyzes the overall and specific needs of a process to integrate solid business strategies with advanced technology. The objective: do not reinvent the wheel, rather make the wheel run faster, longer, and more efficiently.

The technology offered through 3Doves positions all applications far beyond the level of static information and basic e-commerce functions of Web interfaces. Virtually any task requiring interaction between users at remote locations make web-based applications a viable consideration. Even tasks within single-office organizations can benefit from advanced design and enhanced functionality.

The name 3Doves was inspired by the imagery of the letters "WWW" —envisioned as three birds in flight. Known for its intrinsic grace and majestic beauty, the dove became a perfect symbol embodying the spirit of the company.

Having a local, national and global client base, many re-sellers employ the services and products offered by 3Doves. Often, companies implementing projects through a re-seller do not realize that both the design and the technology originated with 3Doves. "Companies who work directly with us see additional savings by eliminating the mark-up," says Wayne Vaughn. "Our end goal is simply to meet the challenge with innovative solutions."

3Doves provides custom-yet-affordable services and products on several levels. The most powerful being an overall analysis of all internal systems even across platforms. Seemingly small improvements can have a tremendous impact on the bottom line. Most companies seek to initially deploy a single project. Realizing the benefits and the return on investment, they become loyal clients.

Solutions for system-level analysis and internal administrative applications only describe one dimension of the company. 3Doves can add layers of functionality to existing Web sites. What was once static and solely informational can be transformed into valuable, dynamic content with functions that support sophisticated e-commerce, powerful search capabilities, data collection, and the distribution of secure information. The greatest aspect is 3Doves' ability to connect internal processes with functions made available through the Internet, intranets and extranets—and allowing data to flow between the systems quickly and securely.
